

The University of Pittsburgh at Greensburg Theatre Company

Presents

A group of theatre professionals come together to perform in the British sex farce, Nothing On. But these are not top tier performers. And there seems to be more drama going on back-stage and off-stage than there is on-stage. One of the actors is an alcoholic, one a terrible gossip and, as for the rest—well, will the director and his overworked staff be able to hold things together until they close, or even open, the show?

November 16-18, 2006 at 7:30 PM
in the UPG Ferguson Theater

Tickets (available at the door only):

$6 regular, $3 students/seniors,
$1 for UPG faculty, staff and students with current ID.

For more info, contact director Stephen Schrum at 724-836-7483/sas114@pitt.edu.

